Mrs. Pearl G. Swanton is looking forward to next week when the Greers and party will be up here. Mrs. Swanton tells us they are up here several times a season.

Albert E. Wallish and family are spending their second week at Mrs. Swanton's. Among her other guests are Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Kaye, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Johnston, both of Beaver, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Kovach and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spik of Imperial, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. George A. Barr and Mr. and Mrs. R. Glessner and daughter of Sumerset, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Flocker and son, Robert, are vacationing there. Robert was still in service last year when the Flockers were vacationing at the resort. They were here on V-Day last year.

Mr. and Mrs. William Heyer and family and Mr. and Mrs. William Teuterberg and Miss Rosemary Beck are all guests from Pittsburgh, Pa. Other guests are Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Hink and family of Kenmore, N. Y., Edna Lapp and Grace Enghart of McKees Rocks, Pa.

'Round the Resort

Mrs. Anna C. Jones of Pittsburgh is staying at Lakewood Lodge for two weeks; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ross of Pittsburgh are vacationing at the Woodmont cottage in Mapleton Beach; David L. Williams and group of friends from New Castle, Pa. are staying at the Voit cottage; Mr. and Mrs. Frank O. Patterson of Monongahela, Pa. are at the Allen cottage; James Hamrahan of Hubbard will be honeymooning at the Pick and Pat cottage; Elmer and Josephine Waters and Mary and Nancy Randall are staying at Mrs. Walter Banig's "Mary-Pop" cottage.

Other guests of the Banigs are Eddie Watson and family vacationing for the season at the Flo-Walt cottage; John Coleman of Wheeling, W. Va. at the Happy Hours cottage; Mr. and Mrs. Don Hamer of New Castle, Pa. at the Blue-Water; Dr. and Mrs. Mancino of New Castle, Pa. in Snug Harbor; and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Buttermore and family of Massillon in the Cherry cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Henri Gaetano and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peluco of Cleveland are staying in the Bluebird cottage. Mrs. Argentino spent a day at the cottage as a guest of her daughter, Sadie Ga-

Jennie Gregory Owns Historical Old Residence

One of Geneva-on-the-Lake's oldest residences is the 130-year-old home owned for the last 27 years by Mrs. Jennie Gregory of Geneva.

Mrs. Gregory purchased the land from G. E. Putnam. Mr. Putnam told her that the virgin timber from the 250-acre farm lands was used in building the first houses in Buffalo. He said that he could remember the time when there was a 50-acre wheat field in front of the farm house. The gradual encroachment of the lake eventually made it necessary to move the road which ran in front of the farm house to where it now is.

Mrs. Gregory said that the house was originally built by Solomon Fitch and was known in early days as Fitch's landing. There was a dock for boats and the surrounding country was wild and undeveloped.

Owned Chestnut Grove

The owner herself has been one of the leading property owners at Geneva-on-the-Lake. Her people owned Chestnut Grove back in 1884 and sold it to the Jones-Laughlin Steel corporation in Pittsburgh just 38 years ago.

Rufus Hoskins, father of Clarence Hoskins, at one time leased Chestnut Grove and operated it as a boarding place for vacationists, Mrs. Gregory said. Mr. Hoskins was the former owner of Maple Manor.

Just north of the Casino, Mrs. Gregory once owned and managed a boarding house called "Four Gables." Mrs. Gregory and her late husband built the Casino (now a skating rink) and sold it to Glick and Johnston who later sold to Mr. Pera, one of the leading property owners at the resort today.

Eagles' Nests

Mrs. Gregory recalled that as a child, her people, the Henry S. Mungers, camped across from Eagle Cliff in "Battles Grove." Some of the early families (the Tuttles, Stephens, Foremans, Tullers, and Turners) from Geneva

Grace and Mildred Alberth, Emma Bresse and Esther Simon of Grove City, Pa. also are guests of the Banigs.

Mrs. Carl Johnson of Youngstown is staying at the Kramer Home. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Grinnen of Struthers are staying at Wavecrest cottage for two weeks.

Worthington Cottages

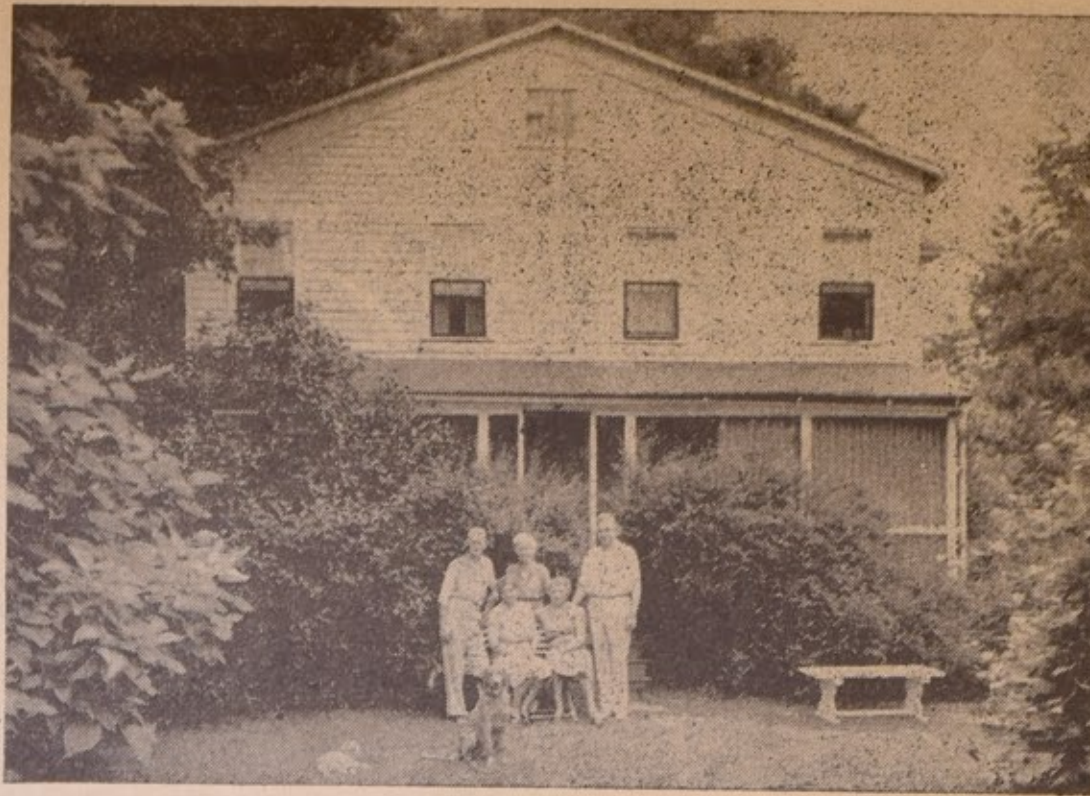

Expected this week at Miss Ford's Rosalee cottage is Mr. Negrelli and family of Euclid. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nerachker of Cleveland Heights are staying at the Memphis Belle. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Thomas of Pine Grove, W. Va. will be at the Wee Roselawn.

From Lakewood are Mr. and Mrs. Dwyer who will be at the Mary Lou cottage; Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Park of New Lexington, at the Roselawn; and Miss Ann Schafer and friend of Aliquippa at the Kathleen.

Ford Cottages

Expected guests at the Ford cottages for the week of the eighteenth are J. C. Ruff and

"Historical Grandview"

A 50-ACRE WHEAT FIELD once fronted this spacious 130-year-old home, owned for the last 27 years by Mrs. Jennie Gregory. It was known in early historical times as Fitch's landing and at one time there was a dock for boats. Shown above on the back lawn are recent guests of Mrs. Gregory's, B. J. Madden and his wife, Mrs. Madden of Mingo Junction, Ohio, Mrs. Edna Clementz of Akron, Jay Converse of Akron, and Mrs. Gregory. Also in the picture is Mrs. Gregory's six-months-old pup, "Honey Boy," and "Flutter Budget," the cat.

camped there in a huge tent. Each family had a compartment and they all ate at a long table in the center of the tent.

"Howard Warner's grandfather would remember the eagles' nests in the big trees near there. That is how Eagle Cliff received its name," Mrs. Gregory smiled.

She explained that the Warners had the original boarding house at the lake and catered to a fine class of people.

Naming Creek

Mrs. Gregory has a book in her possession written in 1847 by Henry Howe, under the title of "Historical Collections of Ohio" which describes the naming of a stream "Morse's Slough," now called Cowles' creek located about 1,000 feet south of Mrs. Gregory's residence at the lake, "Grandview."

It seems that the early settlers labored in the forests for about a week at a time, or as long as their provisions held out.

The main portion of the provisions consisted of Indian or corn bread "and whoever has been

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Sharp and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Renno of Washington, Pa. are vacationing in the Brighton cottage; Edward E. Helmstadter and family of McKeesport, Pa. will be at the Worthington cottage for two weeks; and Ralph Moore and family of Houston, Pa. will be at the Justamere cottage. V. D. Arcole Shore Estates Placed On the Market

The opening for subdivision of the Arcole Shore Estates near Madison-on-the-Lake, just west of the Dock road, was announced today by J. Earl Miller of the Miller Realty Co. Lots will be available both on the lake front and a short distance from the lake, Miller said.

"Our aim in this subdivision," Miller explained, "is to develop a colony of summer homes for those who prefer the more quiet type of summer vacation." To achieve this, he pointed out that the lots have been carefully restricted as to types of summer homes built and as to buyers.

Each lot will range from 50 feet frontage up. A wide, new road has been constructed through the property and sewer, water, gas, and electricity have already been installed.

Many Guests Listed at Breen's

Frank Mraz has purchased two lots from Francis J. Breen, it was announced this week. The lots adjoin Mraz' property on his south boundary. The two lots were No. 176 of the Log Cabin Plan and No. 16 of the Breen located between Presidential and Francis avenues.

Breen's guests expected for the coming week include the following from Pittsburgh, Pa. and vicinity: John Kyle in the Gretchen, C. M. Crawford (Wilkinsburg) at the Claire; James Hayden (Brookline) at the Etnel Mae; J. A. Williams and G. A. Keil at the Helen; Philip Sweeney (Swissvale) at the Hatton; Mrs. Joseph Hasek at the Bunkaroo; and Miss Jean Keller (N.S.) at the Mraz.

A group of Phi Sigma Gammas from Cleveland Heights will be at the Greenfield. Other Clevelanders include the Delta Alpha Taus at the Carrick; Mrs. Eleanor Hornbacher at the Mary Edna; A. Barth at the McBride; Tom Meggas at the Sonny; Mrs. McWhirten at Rick's Lodge for the next two weeks; and Fred Finamore at the Eilene.

Other Pennsylvanians

From Youngstown are Don Gaetano at the Barry; Mrs. Donald Rhodes at the Greenfield Annex; Alwyn Sterline at Baird No. 1.

C. E. Jolly Elected Head

C. E. Jolly was re-elected president of the local Chamber of Commerce at the annual election meeting held Monday night. A. Sylvester Oakley was named vice-president and E. C. Koerner, second vice-president. John Zimmerman was elected secretary-treasurer.

Principal discussion at the meeting was centered on the road between Geneva and Geneva-on-the-Lake, Route 534, and the Austin road which runs between Geneva-on-the-Lake and U. S. Route 20. The feeling was expressed that both roads were badly in need of repairs and it was recommended that a committee meet with the county commissioners.

"Good roads are essential to the well-being of this resort," the chamber head declared. "Austin road is wide enough for a four-lane highway and because of the large amount of traffic going to and from the lake, it would aid considerably in the traffic problem."

Some attention was given to the $202,000,000 six-lane highway which is to be built by New York State within the next five years. Similar to the Pennsylvania turnpike only on a larger scale, when completed it will be the world's largest highway. It was pointed out that the highway may be extended from coast to coast and is expected to follow the Lake Erie shoreline from Buffalo west.

Dutch Club Members Really Celebrate

Yes-sir-ee. those fun-loving Pittsburgh vacationists are here again. Remember the Dutch club . . . 339 Elks gang . . . those top-notch bowlers . . . and the beer?

They are here for most of August and last week end they had a rip-snorting time celebrating the anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Keller and the birthdays of Mrs. Edward Reynolds and Henry Baierl.

Here with the Kellers are their daughter, Mae, and son, Edward, and grandchildren, Buck and Jean. Mrs. Keller's sister, Mrs. Margaret Williams, is also vacationing here, as is her daughter, Mary Margaret. Expected over the week end are her son and daughter, Jack and Margaret Keller.

With Mr. Baierl are his wife, Mrs. Baierl. and daughter, Lois.

Now that we've got that straightened out, here's the rest of the gang. Oh yes, they are all from Pittsburgh and they are spending their fifteenth summer at Youngstown Manor.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Nicho-

Eating is one of the most delightful pastimes at any resort and this year, particularly, there is any number of places to eat.

At the resort proper, Suzette guides her friends to either the Dama Spaghetti House, or to Mary's Kitchen for some of that marvelously prepared Italian food . . . then there is the Chef's Steak House in the Colonial building . . . the Village Inn for sea foods and sandwiches . . . The Deck with its gorgeous view of Lake Erie while enjoying a well balanced meal . . . The Lake Diner has always proved to be a popular spot . . . The Purple Cow for its wonderful sandwiches . . . top that off with a frosted malt at the Ella-Mar (they will be at the county fair in Jefferson this week) . . . and you can always get a "good deal" at the eating places in Snell's Midway.

Cook's waffle shop has proved to be a popular spot with summer vacationists since its opening—not only in the morning but in the evening, too.

Vacationists who want to dress and enjoy a delicious dinner in gracious surroundings will enjoy the historical Old Tavern in Unionville.

Stegner's Homestead on the way into Geneva specializes in chicken dinners served home-style . . . Maple Acres on the same road has wonderful pastries along with their tasty dinners . . . The Tarrymore Inn on Route 20 has been doing a tremendous business because of their exceptionally good food . . . and of course, Turner's Restaurant in Geneva has enjoyed a fine reputation for their food for many years.

Vacationists also are enthusiastic about the fine dinners served at Pen'Bryn just east of township park . . . and for food that is unusual, visit the Smorgasbord restaurant just east of Geneva and eat under soft candle light in the lovely dining room.

And, next to eating, swimming, dancing, and fun playing games at the various concessions, vacationists like to shop. Suzette has been telling vacationists about the "buys" at shopping points all summer and here are her suggestions for the week:

When shopping at Carlisle-Allen's in Ashtabula, check the "Kay-Saks" distinctive all-wool gabardine suits with California's superb styling. Kay-Saks is California's top-flight designer. The suits come in white smoke, black, red, patterned worsteds in both tailored and dressmaker styles. Sizes, 12-18, $49.95. Second floor.

Not only practical for college gals and young married women, the chenille robes at Carlisle's are ideal for anyone who needs a warm robe. They come in American Beauty, wine, aqua, white, and blue with a floral design along the border. Sized from 12 to 44, they sell at only $9.90. The robes are washable.

The younger set will be interested in seeing the bright colored Jacquard sweaters. They come in "keyboard" and "skunk" designs in red, green, and blue at $6.98. They are 100 per cent wool and are a pullover type.

Particularly interesting too are the "Heart throb" cardigan sweaters that come in gray, red, blue, and green at $10. They are designed with hearts, keys, and names.

Vacationists always are looking for novelties that will remind them of their summer fun long after it's all over . . . Suzette suggests that you see the novelty hair combs in the jewelry department on the first floor. They look like a barrette and yet keep your hair in place at the same time. They come in sterling silver and in 18 carat gold plate on sterling trim. Single combs, four or five inches wide, sell at $2.50 (plus tax, of course). The combs are suitable for gray, blonde or dark hair.

Another nice souvenir is the metal tags in gold finish that sell at 25c plus tax. This includes engraving. The tags can be used for identification on key chains, luggage, bracelets, or as zipper pulls on hand bags.

Incidentally, if you're a person who is bothered with spots on clothing, gloves, etc. (and who isn't?), try some of the Hollywood cleaner at Carlisle's that sells for 50c. When cleaning spots from fabrics, use a damp cloth. When cleaning leather, use a dry cloth and then polish. It is safe on all fast colors. It is obtainable at the handbag counter.

Our Beaches--Our Lifeline!

Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday of this week the American Beach Preservation Association held its national convention at the Breakers hotel in Cedar Point.

The convention was particularly significant this year because of attention it placed upon the erosion problem.

"The loss of valuable property by beach erosion, as well as the present effect on developing industry, has become so critical that it is imperative that an early program for its control be inaugurated" is a quote taken from the general report of the Ohio Post-Program Commission in 1944.

Not only Geneva-on-the-Lake, but every resort along the south shore of Lake Erie is becoming cognizant of the fact that where the resort business along Lake Erie is standing at the brink of a new era in popularity, the problem of erosion could easily bring about its complete downfall.

It is generally conceded that Lake Erie's wide white sandy beaches are its greatest drawing card to vacationists.

It is interesting to note that approximately two-thirds of the citizens of the state live in the two rows of counties bordering the shoreline of Lake Erie. Some of the most traveled highways follow the shoreline and many of the state's largest industries are situated in this vicinity.

Wednesday sessions of the convention were devoted entirely to erosion problems, and several citizens of this resort were in attendance.

Some of the subjects discussed were "Permissive Conservancy Legislation for Beach Erosion Control," by Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, noted conservancy engineer from Yellow Springs, Ohio, who formerly headed TVA; "Federal Activities in the Field of Erosion," by Dr. Martin A. Mason, chief engineer of the Federal Erosion board.

The Canadian government sent Capt. G. W. Graham of the directorate of works and construction as a luncheon speaker and Col. Frank A. Pettit, army division engineer at Detroit, spoke on the subject, "Lake Levels."

Other authorities who spoke at the banquet in the evening included U. S. Senator James W. Huffman, Congressman Alvin E. Weichel of Sandusky, Col. C. L. Hall, senior member of the Federal Erosion board, and Congressman A. Dondero of Michigan, member of the erosion subcommittee of the House rivers and harbors committee.

George P. Larsen, executive secretary of the Shoreline Planning Association of California, Inc., who spoke on "California Shore and Beach Progress," indicated how the erosion problem is being met in California.

Inasmuch as this paper is a weekly, we were unable to get a complete account of the conclusions drawn from the convention in time for this week's paper. However, the findings of the convention will be presented in the subsequent issue.

We feel that it is important for property owners here to keep abreast of what is being done in the preservation of our beaches because that in the final analysis is the lifeline of all the resorts along Lake Erie.

For vacationists who would like to attend the church of their choice while staying at Geneva-on-the-Lake, the Geneva churches extend their whole-hearted welcome.

Recipe for Summer Fruits

Summer lends itself to exotic dishes and when you're vacationing at a cottage, perk up summer fruits with one of these wine fruit compotes.

1. Sprinkle melon balls (watermelon, honeydew, cantaloupe) with powdered sugar. Add California Port, Angelica or Sauterne wine to about half-cover the balls and chill thoroughly, stirring once or twice. Serve piled in sherbet glasses, topped with mint.

2. Sweeten berries or other fresh fruits with white wine syrup: (boil equal parts sugar and water to a heavy syrup; remove from heat, add 1-3 as much white table wine (California Sauterne or Rhine wine); cool. Pour over fruit and chill.

Red Cross Worker Gets Citation

Catherine Nau of Alexandria, Va., cousin of Mrs. William Heasley of Lakewood Lodge, recently was awarded the presidential citation for the Bronze Star medal for "marked devotion to duty while in the hands of the enemy at Santo Tomas and Los Banos internment camp from 1942 to 1945. She is with the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Heasley said that her cousin was field director for the Red Cross in Corrigidor and was there when it fell to the Japanese. Mrs. Heasley says that her cousin may visit her when the season is over.
