SUNDAY, JULY 28, 1946

The two secretaries on duty at the Chamber of Commerce headquarters at the village hall have all sorts of questions to answer.

One lady called up from Youngstown to ask if it was raining up here and if they thought it would clear up!

Here is a blanket answer to that question: The weather is perfect up here (yes, we know all about the California Chamber of Commerce) and any rain that might fall is absolutely inconsequential!

Miss Ellen Rae Ellis of the L-Rae Guest house had as her guest for several days her sister, Mrs. Charles Williams of Niles and two nieces, Donna and Betty. Her nephew, Charles, is at the resort for the season. Another niece who recently visited Miss Ellis is Beverly O'Brien of Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Barrett and daughters, Janet and Marjorie, and son, Edward, are here for the season. They are staying in their cottage, "Morningthorpe," on New street. The Barretts are from East Cleveland.

Gaetano's Guests

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Montag, Pittsburgh furriers, and granddaughter, Patsy, are vacationing at the lake-front Gaetano guest house this week.

Other guests during the past week included Miss Helen Kurtz and party of North Side Unit, Youngstown; Mr. and Mrs. Poidmore, newly-weds of Youngstown; and four girls, all of whom are employed at the General Electric Ohio Lamp Co. in Warren: Martha Clary, Leslie Manes, Helen Smith, and Lucille Andreatta.

Expected to arrive Sunday are Anthony Lardo and his family who will spend two weeks at Gaetano's. Mr. Lardo is a musician and plays with a Pittsburgh orchestra.

Others include Miss Agnes Tetneir and party from Elwood City, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Nystrom of Pittsburgh; and Miss Penny Angelides and girl friend of Warren.

Mrs. Homer Oliver of Struthers is spending the summer at Gaetano's, and Mrs. Helen Leonetti of Pittsburgh and nephew are spending two weeks here.

Crest Court Guests

The following guests from Cleveland are expected at Crest Court this week: Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Torrence and children will stay in the Snoozy cottage; Miss Sue Matusik in the Mugsy; La Verne Prahl in the Cookie cottage; Dolores Zugler and friends in the Ritz; Mrs. Schendler in the Gracit; and Mr. and Mrs. James Kester and friends in the Yuggy cottage

Other guests include Jeanne Conway of Youngstown in the Doodle cottage; Mrs. G. Fine and

Secretary for Chamber Has Toured Europe In U.S.O. Unit

Miss Joyce Thompson of Ashtabula is performing a service to vacationists this year at Geneva-on-the-Lake in her job as one of two secretaries hired by the local Chamber of Commerce.

She also perfomed a vital wartime service with a U. S. O. concert unit overseas, traveling some 20,000 miles in an Army truck between May 24 and Dec. 1 last year.

Miss Thompson is a promising young flutist who studied with the world's foremost flutist, the late Georges Barrere. She will go back to the Juilliard School of Music this fall and at the end of the school term will receive a bachelor of science degree in music.

Her unit played before approximately 250,000 G. I.'s throughout France, Germany and Czechoslovakia. They presented 128 shows and often gave two performances a day.

Famous Places

She visited the Palace of Versailles, the Passion theater at Oberammergau, Berchtesgaden and the Palace of the "Mad King" of Bavaria.

She also visited the Louvre which houses the Winged Victory, Mona Lisa, Venus de Milo, and other art treasures.

The U. S. O. group with which she traveled reached Europe two weeks after the European war ended. Their first concerts were in Paris.

The group also gave concerts in the great Bayreuth Festespielhaus where many of Richard Wagner's great operas were first performed; in the Prince Regent Opera House in Munich; at Hitler's Berchtesgaden; and in Nurenberg, Salzburg and other famous cities.

Their programs consisted of light classic and popular music and ranged from an hour and a quarter to two hours in lentgh.

Keys Clogged

"At one performance I discovered that one of my keys was clogged by dust," Miss Thompson recalled. She brought this to the attention of the master of ceremonies, thinking it was impossible to play her solo. But he calmly announced that the flutist would play "Serenade" with a sour note.

"The boys waited for the note each time and really hooted at

Mrs. John L. Work of Midland, Pa. will vacation in the Blondie cottage; Mrs. Albert Fisher, West Girard, in the Taby; Margaret Koyas in tht Rheta Jane; Mildred Sulk in the Hiram; Evelyn Schaerr in the Kathy; and Helen R. Smith in the Cuffy.

Edgewater Lodge

Barbara LaPorte of Barberton will be a two weeks' guest at Edgewater Lodge. She is visiting Miss Martha Jean Anderson. Mr. Anderson returned last week from Marseles, Minn., where he was on that," Miss Thompson laughed.

She had the occasion to meet many well known artists of stage, screen and radio, including Sonja Henie, Bobby Breen, Mickey Rooney, Marlene Dietrich and Grace Moore.

Miss Thompson first was a violin student studying in Ashtabula, Cleveland and at the Ohio Band Camp, but on M. Barrere's advice changed to the flute.

Family Together

Her sister, Ruth, is also working this summer at the resort as cashier at the new Geneva theater. She will resume her studies as a senior in music this fall at Frances Shimer Junior college in Mt. Carroll, Ill.

Her brother, Norman, a medical discharge from the Army three years ago, also arrived home recently from Los Angeles where he is a sophomore at the University of Southern California.

Another brother, T-5 Walter, is a member of the Third Infantry Division band, stationed at Bad Wildugen, Germany.

It is almost four years since their parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E.

MISS JOYCE THOMPSON played as flutist with a U. S. O. concert unit before 250,000 G. I's in the European theater. The unit traveled 20,000 miles and presented 128 shows. The talented musician is spending the summer at Geneva-on-the-Lake as a secretary for the local Chamber of Commerce. In the fall she will commence her last year at the Juilliard School of Music in New York City.

Thompson of 110 West 44th street, Ashtabula, have had their children home all at the same time.

Please, "Accentuate The Positive!"

We cannot ignore the "Good-Time Charlie" feature that appeared recently in the Ashtabula Star-Beacon. Frankly, we failed to get the point, or the joke.

Anyone who has worked on a newspaper knows that editors like to dish out feature assignments to "color up" the front page or to have some "filler" material on hand to slap in the paper in the event that there is a shortage of local news.

The recent "Good-Time Charlie" feature "colored up" the front page, all right, but it also cast a slightly purple hue on the collective faces of both the Star-Beacon advertisers and the Geneva-on-the-Lake residents.

Of course, the story could have been written by a cub reporter who was deeply impressed with the resort—never having been to any other resort nor having observed that prices have gone up everywhere, including his own fair city. The bitterness and sarcasm probably was looked upon as "punch" to the story and it slipped right out of the editor's fingers smack on the front page complete with festive dingbats and gala headline to attract readers.

It could have been that the paper was "crusading," but we discarded that possibility immediately, because if there is any crusading to be done, the Star-Beacon would direct its attention to the sad lack of recreational facilities within its own city.

For instance, the Star-Beacon might start a crusade against the conditions of Ashtabula's own beaches including the polluted water and the fact that they don't have a public bath house.

On the Fourth of July, tennis players searched all over the city for a court to play on. None was available.

As for refreshment stands—try to buy so much as a bottle of pop at the Walnut public beach.

That Ashtabula benefits from the Geneva-on-the-Lake summer resort is an established fact proven each year by business men. The resort wants the cooperation of Ashtabula and Geneva in making it the "top" resort on Lake Erie.

The Star-Beacon is right when it says that the emphasis is on the word "Up." We want the resort to continue to go "up," and "up" in the esteem of summer vacationists. Sure, this resort has growing pains. The Lake Erie International Conference tells us that every resort on Lake Erie is expanding. It is a healthy sign.

Maybe the resort needs a verbal spanking now and then like every growing child but when it's spanked by an unfriendly stranger, watch out, because mamas and papas object to outside discipline!

Appraisers Will Complete Field Work in August

The reappraisal of real estate at Geneva-on-the-Lake will not be completed until the middle of September, according to Herbert Mellinger, field appraiser for the Cole-Layer Appraisal company of Dayton.

Mellinger, who is taking field notes with another appraiser, Ralph Bare, said that they expected to finish taking field notes by the middle of August.

"It really depends on the weather," the appraiser said. "We have been having nice weather and therefore have been spending all of our time in the field and have done no pricing." Mellinger pointed out that they expected to have one-third of the field job done by the weekend, but that the final answer could not be determined until they double-checked their findings.

"Land is priced according to its location on the lake, general topography, and available facilities, such as sewer, lights, and gas," he explained.

Buildings Graded

"Buildings are measured in size and graded according to quality of construction, plumbing, their age and depreciation," Mellinger said.

He pointed out that some will go up in value and others will go down. "The village hasn't been appraised since 1937 and there have been quite a few changes since then," he added.

The appraisers began taking field notes two weeks ago, starting at the west end of the village and working in toward the center. This week they started at the east end and are working in toward the center. The business section will be the last section to be listed.

"We have appreciated the cooperation given us by the cottagers. They have unhesitatingly given us all the information we have asked for in helping us get an accurate appraisal," Mellinger concluded.

Drive-In Boxing Arena Proposed

Jerry Sacha (the man with the Dude ranch over on Grand River) outlined plans for a drive-in boxing arena that promises to offer summer vacationists something different in the way of entertainment.

The novel outdoor fight arena would be located on his Dude ranch near Harpersfield. The drive-in boxing site would accommodate about 1,000 spectators and all the fans would have to do is drive in at the gate and watch the show from their autos, the promoter explained.

Sacha himself is an ex-Cleveland promoter, fight manager and one time owner of a gymnasium in that city.

"We would have amateur bouts once every week or as often as the customers want them and there's a possibility that we would try some pro boxing," Sacha said.

Suzette saw Louise Malott the other day and said that Louise was feeling quite wonderful (remember, earlier this year she was worried about getting hollyhocks to grow?) and that she had more new gift items to come in to show vacationists.

Louise paints beautiful trays and also puts some of her oil paintings in antique frames that make ideal bjet d'art for homes done in Early American. To visit the Hollyhock Hill gift shop (it's located on Route 20 just outside of Saybrook) is a pleasure in itself because there are so many lovely things to look Suzette has a habit of getting into Carlisle's department store in Ashtabula at least once a week to see what they've gotten in new.

She was telling a group of girls who were vacationing at the lake about the new Kem all-plastic cards. They last the lifetime of about 40 regular decks and are washable. They sell at $3.50 for a single deck and $7.50 for a double deck in a plastic case. Incidentally, the individual cards can be replaced.

While at the stationery counter on the main floor, Suzette bought some of the stationery called "Going Places." The box contained 60 sheets and 30 envelopes for $1. The stationery is decorated with a luggage print and comes in blue, pink, white, and gray.

Now this same group of girls mentioned to Suzette that they were always getting hungry in between swims and that they wanted something along the sweet side (to heck with the pounds). When Suzettte came back with a box of Mrs. Stevens' chocolates, they let up a howl that could be heard all the way from Jansen's Midway down to Mapleton Beach! Carlisle's carry a complete line of Mrs. Stevens' bulk candies and also have nutty brittle, maple sugar candies and other calorie-raising yum-yums that you just can't afford to miss.

What can be nicer, for instance, than to stretch out under a shade tree (like at Alta-Vista) with a good book and a box of chocolates? (Alll right, go on and take that motorette ride, but just let us sit in peace!)

The things that shoppers look for in summer clothes are their coolness and style. Henry Rosenfeld is a key-name in the fashion world and if you need an extra dress on your vacation, shop at Carlisle's and see their Henry Rosenfelds in cool sheers that sell at $12.95 and $14.95. They have summer casuals and cottons arriving daily that are priced reasonably at $8.95 and $10.95.

Carlisle's Men's Shop, street floor, has a complete line of men's toiletries . . . featuring all the favorite brands . . . "Seaforth," "Sportsman" and "Kings Men"; after shave lotions, talc, colognes and shaving bowls. Suzette sug-

While you're there on the main floor, check the cosmetics department. They have a rubberized cosmetic bag that is large enough to use as a beach bag or to hold all your cosmetics while traveling. Outside is in maroon or navy with a plaid trim. It sells at only Chen Yu's new "Sun Red" has been designed to compliment sunbronzed skins. Attractive gift packages of polish, lacquerol, and fluorescent polish sell at $1.10 plus federal tax. The same set with matching lipstick sells at $2.10 plus federal tax.

We hope that by now you have met G. G. Clark in the little shell gift shop near the new theater. He has so many unusual earring and pin sets which he has made during winter months. Suzette bought one of those little fur animals which he sells. Children love them. He also carries a line of greeting cards, picture correspondence notes and stationery.

We have two eating places to recommend this week: Have you tried a sizzling steak at the Chef's Steak house in the Colonial building at this resort? Former vacationists are well acquainted with this restaurant and it can be recommended for good food.

If you're driving around the countryside and want a nice place to eat, travel east on Route 20 from Geneva about a mile and a fourth until you come to the Tarrymore Inn. They serve home cooked meals at 75c and up, and their pies are especially "out of this world.

Watch Those Crossings

Crossing the main thoroughfare at Geneva-on-the-Lake this year can be as hair-raising as any "thriller" put out by Hollywood-that is, if you're in a hurry!

Of course, we recognize the fact that most vacationists are not in a hurry. They have ample time to glance leisurely both ways before crossing the street and if there is a stream of motorettes, a couple of dozen horses, plus a few hundred automobiles-well, they have the time to wait. The purpose of this editorial is to impress upon them the necessity of Stop, Look, and Listen (lest the thundering herds run them down). The village fathers have tried to get badly needed street lights for the resort but found that it was out of the question this year.

We can't think of anything that would be more fun (whom are we kidding?) than riding a motorette zig-zag down the street, or galloping that long-legged hoss right down the main drag, but, by gum, it just "ain't ethical." Then, of course, there are the bicycles in all their glory (girls' bikes, boys' bikes, and tandems) to add a sort of continental note to the whole picture. Personally, we would hate to be a cop in this village. While giving out information to an incoming vacationist, he runs into danger of being sideswiped by a motorette, kicked by a "mulish" horse, and clipped by a bicycle, all unintentionally, of course. Next year, the village will in all probability have street lights and a few things may be ruled out, but in the meantime, pal-e-a-s-e watch out when you cross the streets!

Golf Tournaments o Be Held in Fall

All golf tournaments scheduled or members will be held in the arly fall, according to John Evans, golf-pro at the municipal ourse here.

There was a good turnout on he course during the past week ut no exceptionally high scores vere reported in.

BUT, Bob Kramer of Geneva hot a 45 the other day. That is he score he has been trying to the hoot since he first began playing n the local course.

He thrashed Dick Cochrane and Bob Cummins of Cleveland who vere playing with him at the time. The Thompsons have returned Chico East Liverpool but will return gain in August. They are con-CHridered the best golf couple playng at the municipal course.

He George Korabek who has been taying at Idle-a-While was so ver-trained that he had to go ome for a rest (maybe he heard hat there were several top-notch PARITO coming).

The local pro has been besieged rith new players who are taking ssons to improve their game and vailabethers who are just beginning.

Incidentally, The Beachcomber ****** as posted a board at the concesons stand on the Municipal ourse. If you have a score that's ood, let us know about it and all us where you're from and here you're staying at the lake. Restauve want news about golfers but just don't have the time to Rore Fret out there and check the plays. So, help us out, and let us g rom now how you're doing on the BORD reens.

Mr. Richards Travels

David Richards who is studying mechanical engineering at Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh, is really spending his weekends hurrying back and forth to Geneva-on-the Lake Ohio.

The reason is a certain cute little waitress at Harper's Diner. Yep, it's his wife, the former Ida Harper, who was a bride this spring.

NEW HOURS: 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Daily

Dear Folks.

We don't need to tell you how tough it is to get beer. And, since we can't get enough of it, we will be redecorating through the month of August and will be open only during the day from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

HOWEVER, WE WILL BEGIN OUR FALL PROGRAM ON THE SATURDAY BEFORE LABOR DAY, AUGUST 31, 1946, SO PLAN A PARTY FOR THE 31ST AT THE CHATTERBOX!

TO MAKE SURE YOU GET YOUR FAVORITE TABLE, PHONE IN YOUR RESERVATION. The number is Geneva 2622.

Yours for lots of fun at The Chatterbox, "BROWNIE" and "BILL"
