Splashing

Hi ho! The rain's all gone and the sun's out shining bright as a seven dollar, so come on up, vacationists, and have yourself a time! Most everybody knows Georgie Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Arnold of Snell's Midway, he is going to attend the Buckeye Boys' state at Ohio Wesleyan university as a representative from Warren. Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Breen celebrated their 47th wedding anniversary June 7. Mrs. Breen has been ill in bed and still must spend greater part of the day in bed. Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lomas celebrated their 27th wedding anniversary on June 8. Lomas is operating The Log Cabin Inn at the corner of Presidential and Lake road. Florence Ford of Worthington has spent her first winter at the resort and reports that she thoroughly enjoyed it. She says snow didn't bother her, but at times she couldn't tell where the roar came from the lake from her roof blowing off. Mrs. Edith Rose, owner of Alta, recently visited her son, R. Rose Jr., and family of Auburn, N. J. She also visited Rose and family in East Rutherford, N. H. Living in the Kramer cottage Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sargent and their children, June, Bob, and Jack. is a representative of the National Cash Register company in Ashtabula. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Loveland of Mapleton Beach entertained Attey and Mrs. John Curry and Robert, and Mrs. Mary L. Oliver of Shaker Heights recently. Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ellis of Wood were "honeymoon" guests at Stegner's Homestead recently. Other guests included Mr. Mrs. Schaub, Mrs. Marie, all of Canton; and J. B. of New Brunswick, Canada. is connected with the Canadian air lines. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Oliver and daughter, Sandy, will arrive at the Guest House for the summer. The Gaetanos spent the winter at the lake this year. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Arthurs of C. P. Arthurs of Pittsburgh Decoration Day guests at the lake cottage in Mapleton. W. Smythe and family of will spend the month of at Harper's Inglemere. from Youngstown are Warren Williamson Jr. and family (Mr. amson is president of radio on WKBN), and Ed Daley and y, who will vacation three s. ## Baldwin Addresses Chamber Banquet At Idle-A-While

"Boost Geneva-on-the-Lake—that's the real job of the Chamber of Commerce!" Leonard G. Baldwin declared when he addressed the local Chamber at their spring banquet last Wednesday night at Idle-A-While. Over 90 persons attended.

Baldwin who tends 9 000 orange trees in California during the winter time, has been a resident and cottage owner at the resort for the last 26 years. He included a brief history of the resort in his talk and presented an eight-point program which he felt should be stressed by the chamber.

Mayor Compliments Chamber

Mayor Murray Cook said that he believed the Chamber had a great future and that "a great deal of credit should be given to the directors and to the chamber head, C. E. Jolly, for the organization of the group."

Jolly reported that the Merchants Board of Geneva recently made a donation to the Chamber and introduced E. L. Stiffler of Stiffler's grocery in Geneva, president of the Merchants' Board. Other officials and business people were called upon by Jolly for remarks.

Baldwin named beach erosion as the number one problem of the resort business which he pointed out is the third largest industry in the country. "If the beaches are not preserved, resorts cannot survive," he emphasized.

Petition Circulated

Earlier in the evening Jolly said that a petition circulating this spring contained 11,000 signatures requesting federal aid in the erosion problem and that it had been sent to Washington for action.

Other points on Baldwin's recommended program included better roads leading to the resort, more advertising, consideration of a breakwall for boats and cruisers, a building permit program, increasing cooperation between the merchants, banners at each end of the resort welcoming the vacationists, and a convention hall similar

Inn Reopens Dining Room

VACATIONISTS who have come to Geneva-on-the-Lake for many years will be pleased to know that the historical Broadway Inn in Geneva will once again open its dining room to the public. Mr. and Mrs. James McGuire, its new owners, have put it on a full time basis serving breakfasts, luncheons and dinners.

McGuire said that an overall program of redecoration is being inaugurated and that already the kitchen had been revamped with the installation of all new equipment. The pantry has been converted into a bake shop and in time all the rooms would be renovated, he said.

Leo A. Campbell, formerly a chef at the Parmlee hotel in Painesville, is serving as chef at the inn. Mrs. Millicent (Mickey) McFarland is in charge of the dining room with Mrs. McGuire acting as hostess and Miss Janet Stineman assisting Mrs. McFarland as a waitress.

Michael Scoville, formerly with the Warren hotel in Ashtabula is acting as night watchman.

Dating back to around 75 years ago, the Broadway Inn was built as a private home by Felitus Tuttle, of the American Fork and Hoe company. At one time Walter L. Main used to keep his circus people there and it became his headquarters. About 50 years ago the dining room section was added and it became a hotel.

Many vacationers will remember Elizabeth Cowden now of Geneva who operated the hotel for 20 years. It was during this period that it reached the peak in popularity.

"And that," says Mr. McGuire, is what we're striving for again!"

Welcome, Vacationists!

Extending their welcome to summer vacationists at Geneva-on-the-Lake this year and offering their aid in making your vacation a complete success are two Geneva organizations:

The Geneva Retail Merchants Association, V. L. Stiffler, president

The Geneva Chamber of Commerce, E. L. Swanson, pres.

Both organizations are cooperating with the Geneva-on-the-Lake Chamber of Commerce in the promotion of the summer resort.

Geneva stores are closed on Wednesday afternoons and remain open Friday nights until 9 p. m.

Miller's Arcole Shore Estates Date Back To Early Settlers

Arcole Shore Estates, a new 72-acre lakefront cottage and permanent home development of The Miller Realty Co., located about two miles west of Geneva-on-the-Lake between Dock road and Elm street, is attracting the interest of buyers from many parts of Ohio and Pennsylvania. J. Earl Miller, president of the company, announces. One home already has been built and occupied and a second is under construction. Additional cottages and homes are planned.

The setting for Arcole Shore Estates is one of the most attractive on the southern shore of Lake Erie. The lake here is especially blue, the beach wide and sandy, the bank low. There are 1,900 feet of lake frontage. Minimum lot width is 50 feet. Restrictions have been drawn to carefully protect the development.

Interesting History

Interesting to the many readers of The Beachcomber is the history connected with Arcole Shore Estates. At one time the Village of Arcole, located at the intersection of U. S. 20 and Dock road, was the largest iron producing center west of Pittsburgh.

Gone forever are the furnaces that employed 2,000 men in the early years of Ohio's history. And gone, too, are the wooden sailing ships and their builders who reaped fortunes from the iron makers and the steady stream of early settlers who disembarked from the long dock that jutted into the lake from what is now Arcole Shore Estates.

In the early 1800's, when the name of Arcole became prominently identified with industry, the port already was established and active. Thousands of new settlers started their trek inland from this point.

U. S. 20 Born

With water transportation established, it was a comparably easy matter to set up the iron making industry after surveyors accidentally discovered ore in the lowlands soil through which they were laying out the new east-west Highway, now U. S. Route 20.

No discovery could have been more welcome to the early settlers, who had been compelled to get their farm tools and bar iron from Pittsburgh and other points in the east. This was expensive and often there were costly delays because the supplies came into the territory in freight wagons bumping over narrow trails.

Arcole, under the conditions, was a "natural" for the new industry. The raw materials were here. Limestone was being unloaded at the dock from Kelley's Island. Ore and clay were native products.

Arcole Iron Co.

Old records of the territory show The Erie Furnace Co. was the first to get into production. It

Village To Be Out of Debt By Year 1951

Village Council officials predicted that Geneva-on-the-Lake would be out of debt by 1951 providing conditions continue to boom or become normal within the next several years.

An open discussion at last Monday night's regular council meeting revealed that the majority of council members were not in favor of acquiring a new debt until the long standing old debt was paid off; although the members took cognizance of the many needs of the village.

Mayor Murray Cook told the council that in the near future the village would have to take care of its own garbage disposal. It was also pointed out that the parking problem could be alleviated by the purchase of a parking lot by the village. Another definite need which should have been met years ago is that of a public beach, owned and maintained by the village.

$18,000 a Year

The village is retiring $18,000 in bonds yearly and on January 1, 1948 only $57,000 in bonds remain to be retired.

Clerk John Zimmerman presented the tentative budget for 1948 and a resolution was passed adopting the budget. The village asked for $10,000 in the general fund and $14,728.98 for debt purposes outside the 10 mill levy. Total amount for all purposes was $24,728.98.

See story on annual state report submitted by the clerk for 1946 on Page 2.

The wage scale was generally raised approximately 20% except for the mayor's salary of $300.

William B. Reynolds was employed as life guard for the season.

The mayor appointed the following special police: Clayton Westlake, Carmen Sanzotta, and Reynolds.

In the first regular meeting in June, Mayor Cook appointed the

The Old Tavern Has New Owners

One of Ohio's oldest taverns, "The Old Tavern" in Unionville, was sold during the past year by its owners, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fritz to Ralph W. Fram and Ralph L. Traucht, both formerly of Cleveland.

The high standards maintained at the tavern are being upheld, Fram said, and emphasis is being placed on use of the ballroom for private parties. He pointed out that the tavern would furnish setups for those groups desiring to have cocktail parties before dinner.

He emphasized the use of the tavern as a home and said that this year the garden is open to afternoon bridge parties.

Although the dining room is open to the public without reservations, Fram requested that large groups make reservations ahead of time.

Established in 1812, the tavern is one of three outstanding historical buildings in Ohio and holds a document from the government to that effect.

It is located at Unionville, one mile south of Route 20 on Route 84. Phone Madison 2236.

Council — —

following as special police: Lester Lippincott, Paul A. Johnson, L. G. Baldwin, Adolph Hefley, Robert Cramm, and John Kopp. Carl Pangburn was appointed on the regular force. He is a former policeman of Geneva.

The council heard a second reading on the ordinance approving the plot of Gulf-View subdivision developed by Vic Goettel, but not accepting the streets in the subdivision.

A restaurant was defined as any place where food is prepared in a resolution passed by the council, thus differentiating between a restaurant and a stand.

An ordinance regulating traffic and parking on Golf avenue in 1944 was repealed and a new ordinance passed which prohibits parking on the east side of Golf avenue to Green Lantern avenue and on the west side of the avenue to a point 50 feet from the intersection of Lake road.

Lyle Merritt, attorney, reported that the Ashtabula county engineer requested that an automatic recording guage be placed on the village water line where it joins at Saybrook and another under-cover at the sewage disposal plant, in order to find out if the water pressure is adequate.

The county engineer indicated that the real solution to the water pressure problem was a standpipe and booster pump in Lake county. The engineer said that friction loss and the length of the pipe would make the placement of another meter at the point where the line leaves Ashtabula ineffective.

Bicycles Whiz Merrily By At Lomas Park

For a good many years, bicycling has been one of the most popular pastimes of summer vacationists at the lake. This year, W. R. Lockhart along with Kenneth (Cookie) Cook are operating The Lomas Park bicycle track.

They have all kinds of bikes—even the kind that has a basket on the front to hold a baby! They have "trainers" (the three-wheeled variety) for those who are just learning how to ride. And, of course, there are the tandems, always popular with those who want a "bicycle built for two!"

Cottages 90 Percent Rented, Breen Says

No less than a dozen new cottages are in the finishing stage in the Breen Allotment, according to Francis J. Breen, property owner here. Breen said that 90% of his cottages are rented for the season.

Mr. Breen purchased from George Barker two lots in the Breen and Greenwood plans with a cottage which he is remodeling. The cottage is to be called The Francis.

He also purchased lot 33 in Greenwood Park from Eugene Rusiski and has moved and enlarged the Betty Jane cottage.

Breen purchased a lot on Presidential avenue from Thomas Nicoletti and four lots on Kathryn street from Charles Lusk.

All of these lots were sold within the past few years by Breen to the above parties. Says Breen: "Just buying back my own stuff with a profit to all!"

Sells Lot

Breen recently sold property 100 x 140 on Thomas boulevard, Greenwood Park to Herminia Chupa of McKees Rocks, Pa.

Two newly wedded couples are guests this week at Breen's. They are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Beidler of Cleveland at the Mary Edna, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Oddi at the Leona cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shipley of Pittsburgh are staying at the Thomas and are building a home here.

Other guests include Donna Jones of Canton at the Gretchen; Peter Markus and family of Pittsburgh at the Perry Villa; Mr. and Mrs. Dale Blickendorfer of Verona, Pa. at the Claire; Sam Deep and family of Pittsburgh at the Ruth; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruben of Large, Pa. at the Ethel Mae; and Amelia Roupe and family of Bridgeville, Pa. at the Helen.

Ten families were guests in the allotment over Memorial Day and many cottages were occupied right along despite bad weather.

Annual State Report Shows Financial Status

The annual state report of the village prepared by Clerk John M. Zimmerman showed total receipts for last year amounting to $58,237.93 and total expenditures of $51,544.92. The balance at the start of 1947 was $36,297.77.

It must be pointed out, however, that of the amount, $22,791.85 is in the bond retirement fund and can only be used in the payment of bonds and interest on the outstanding debt. The village debt now stands at $82,000.

Receipts taken in included $19,587.19 in property tax; $6,876.75 licenses and permits; $1,460 in fines and costs; $20,035.62 in park and miscellaneous fees. The balance of receipts are taken from cigarettes tax, state vehicle, special assessments, etc.

Expenditures include government administration operating costs of $2046.19; protection of personal and property (police, fire), $5412.-

Shopping With Suzette

"There's still time to take advantage of some of the wonderful values to be found in the rug department at the Carlisle-Allen department store in Ashtabula," Suzette remarked to me the other day in Krohn's Waffle shop where we sat enjoying some of their delicious waffles and hot coffee.

"Sometimes a colorful rug or rug set makes all the difference in the world in renting a cottage. Vacationists like bright, colorful cottages," she continued and then was on what she had seen at Carlisle's the other day.

For one thing, Carlisle's are having a sell out on heavy rush mats. The 16" x 30" mats that are at least an inch thick are priced only 50c. The larger mats 26" x 36" are priced at $1.

Bag rugs that formerly sold at $9 are selling at $1.59; Rosewood bath sets have been marked down to $1.48; and 4' x 7' fiber mats at $6.98.

Carlisle's have an exceptionally large selection of awnings and a new awning sells complete at $3.19; at $3.59; 42" at $3.89, and a 48" at $4.19.

After finishing in the rug department, Suzette breezed on over to the curtain section and was "d" on the tailor-made Beacon curtains at $1.79 and others at $1.88. She also looked at the inexpensive print draperies, 2 1/2 yds. 6" priced at $3.98.

Slip covers for chairs were priced at $3.98 and $5.98. "Take an old worn chair and dress it up with a slip-cover and you'll be amazed at how nice it will look—like a new chair," Suzette said brightly.

Deck chair covers are $1.29; awning stripe sells at 89c a yard and valancing sells at 98c a yard.

Suzette said that the Bates bed spreads with matching draperies were particularly nice for cottages. They sell at $6.95 and $9.95. Plastic shower curtains help keep the water within the confines of the shower and they are to be had at $3.98.

Carlisle's have all types of cotton print and stripes at 79c a yard and you'll find some real bargains on their odds and ends table at 49c a yard.

"Listen," I said, "my head is whirling with rugs, awnings, curtains, draperies, etc. Did you spend all of your time in those two departments?"

Suzette smiled sweetly. "Well, while I was on that floor, I bought an 18-piece set of dishes for $2.98. It includes four luncheon plates, salads, cups and saucers, creamer and sugar, and goblets in a ribbed glass at $2.98!"

"And, I bought a sixteen-cup coffee server at $3.98," she said triumphantly. "It's pyrex ware and you can put it right over the flame. The server is trimmed in colorful plastic that is cork lined where you grip the bottle. There also is a six-cup server at $2.75 and a 12-cup one at $3.75.

"Oh, Suzette, how you get around!" I murmured while she began raving about the Downyflake donuts at STIFFLER'S FOOD MARKET in Geneva.

Families coming to the resort this summer needn't worry if they forget their bathing suits or if junior tears his play suit the first day. KROHN'S DEPARTMENT STORE in Geneva has a marvelous supply of swimming suits and clothing suitable for resort living.

"And by the way," Suzette asked me, "did you ever try to lie on the beach and get a tan with a regular towel under you? Either your feet or your head's in the sand and what with putting on sun tan lotion—well, you simply HAVE to have a bigger towel—a beach towel!"

Suzette paused to catch her breath. "And you know where you can get them? At Krohn's for only $1.49!"

"Well," says Suzette, "I'll be seeing you next week. Pardon me, but I've definitely made up my mind on that swimming suit that was in the Play Togs shop window at Geneva-on-the-Lake!"

Debt Free By 1951

We cannot help but comment on the announcement made at last Monday night's council meeting that the village expects to pay off its debt by 1951.

According to Clerk John Zimmerman on January 1, 1948, there will be only $57,000 in bonds left to retire. This means that if times continue to be good and if the village is able to continue paying off $18,000 in bonds yearly, by 1951 the village will be debt free.

It must be pointed out, however, that the village is sorely in need of many things. Mayor Murray Cook told the council that the village must look forward to the time when they will have to do their own collecting of garbage.

Another need that should have been recognized and provided for years ago is a public beach owned and cared for by the village. Adequate parking facilities is a major problem when the season hits its peak.

So, it may be that the village will find it necessary to acquire a new debt some time in the near future; regardless of that, it is comforting to know that if no new debt is acquired, by 1951 the village is reasonably assured of paying off that old, long-standing debt!

Resort News Boys

This year the news boys who will deliver your BEACHCOMBER to you and your guests are Bobby Sargent at the west end; Martin Taylor at the center, and Bill Hoskins at the east end. Chuck Paul will handle the Palmetto Beach section.

We want you to receive your BEACHCOMBER and a sufficient number of papers for your guests. If you are not receiving your papers, you will be doing us a favor by reporting it.

Papers will be distributed on Monday. We had considered distributing it on Sunday. However, with the confusion of vacationists coming and going, there was the general feeling that on Monday vacationists were more settled and ready to find out what is going on at the resort.

We would appreciate receiving news items about your own activities and those of your guests. Again, drop us a card at Box 643 with the information, or we'll call to pick it up.

For vacationists who would like to attend the church of their choice while staying at Geneva-on-the-Lake, the Geneva churches extend their whole-hearted welcome.

The Jerry Cooks Purchase Steak House

Another real estate transaction during the past year that is of interest is the purchase of the Chef's Steak House by its operators, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cook, from E. V. Goettel.

The Cooks are adding on to the present establishment with an apartment above the restaurant and additional storage space behind the present building.

The Roselawn located on U. S. Route 20 is completing ten cabins this year, according to H. Brodsky, owner. One of the new waitresses there is Margaret Grant.

Social Club Concludes Season With Picnic

The Ladies' Social Club of Geneva-on-the-Lake concluded their year's social activities with a picnic supper at Geneva township park in June.

It was attended by 75 village residents who took time off from the hustle and bustle of preparing for the season to enjoy a delicious picnic dinner served cafeteria style.

Following the dinner, Fenton St. John and Mr. Lindhart of Lindhart Lodge took charge of the races.

During the games that followed, the entire St. John family walked off with prizes (we want to know how they did it. Well, anyway, the younger members of the family, Marcia and "Bub," had their tonsils out several days before!)

Winners included Jerome Lomas, Larry Wilcox, Jean St. John, Marcia St. John, Billy Wilcox, Louise Evans, Bobby Sargent, Chuckie Paul, Kenny St. John, Nancy Lindhart, Fenton St. John, Jr., Nancy

Lomas, Linda Evans, Fenton St. John, Sr., Edgar Allen, Dolores John, Evelyn Taylor, Sherie Wilcox, John Zimmerman, Dee debrand, Florence Bodnar, Clara Jolly.

Gretchen Brown was chairman of the committee and assisting were Mrs. Lindhart, Mrs. St. John, Mrs. Bodnar, Mrs. Gessler, Mrs. Taylor.

John Paul To Graduate June 24

John A. Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Paul of Palmetto Beach, will be graduated from Oberlin college June 24. He is a major in history and has been accepted at the University of Wisconsin where he will study for a Master's degree.

The graduate was a member of the 101st airborne division in a European theater and was overseas for three years.

Grocery Changes Location One Block East

Lloyd and Nina Shupp have moved just one block east of their old location at the corner of New street and Lake road and their grocery has been open and doing business since before Memorial Day.

What we want to know is: What's going on in that new section they are adding to their store?

The Shupps vacationed in Federal Point Fla. last winter where Mrs. Shupp's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Gray, reside. Their daughter, Janet, completed her second year at Southern college at Lakeland, Fla. this year. Also home is their son, Roy, from Stetson university at Deland, Fla., where he is studying under the Veterans' training program. He is enrolled as a sophomore.

John Narhi Wins In CEI Golf Tournament Here

John Narhi won out with a score of 78 in the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Company golf tournament held June 15 at the municipal course here.

Close at his heels was Marvin Johnson with a low score of 79.

John Evans, golf pro, said that in the recent weather the greens were drying off and the course is in grand shape considering the weather earlier in the season.

Golf Tit-Bits

Don Errington, Geneva police, has been on the greens a few days this year and claims that it is as easy for him to put them down as the top of the hill on No. 1. Don says he will really give the boys a taste of competition when the tournament is held this year.

George Yearley, president of the Geneva Fork and Hoe in Geneva, shot a snappy 46 the other day. (George Korabek takes notice!)

Don Payne who won the Junior Amateur of Commerce last fall has been eyeing the trophies... Yearley, Bob Howard, John Elker, and Barrett will be in there making the little talk... William Spagnum, former mayor of Youngstown, is expected here for Decoration Day. Korabek (that golf wizard) take notice!

Takes Lacing

Don and Mrs. Roy Rowland who came here from Florida recently looking over the course and says it will be easy pickin' for him to take on Korabek (he's a real salesman, so they tell me Korabek, that is). After the ter- rific lacing Korabek took from

Rose Graves Suffers Injuries

Rose Graves, who was employed at the Village Inn, suffered back injuries when she jumped from the second-story window of her fire-swept cottage at Ninevah Beach last Tuesday morning.

The cottage was razed by fire with loss estimated at $5,500. The cottage was owned by Hart B. Morrison and occupied by Mrs. Graves and her husband, William Graves. Mrs. Graves has been under a physician's care and her condition is reported to be fair.

Mike Evans last fall, it's doubtful if he'll be making many challenges this year!

Forrest Hopes challenged Ray Gilbert of Geneva with Ray taking the measure. Hopes is a slow beginner but he will be in good shape by mid-summer.

Some of the scores so far are Hopes 52; Errington 39; Mel Sanzotta, 49; Gilbert 45; Chet Pasqualone 40; Korabek 50; Yearley 41.

Mark Little, Lynn Hodges, Bill Acierno, and Edward Acierno had their usual foresome one Sunday with Little having a score of 52, Ed Acierno 52, Hodges 45, and Bill 56.

quickly became popular as far west as Detroit and with Canada. As the business grew, more and more workers came from the east. In 1831, things were going so well that a newcomer, The Arcole Iron Co., began operations.

By this time, Arcole was the most important industrial community in the State of Ohio. Two hundred homes had been built near the town. A company-financed store was doing $150,000 worth of Jones taught home economics at Madison high school during the past winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Huntington Smith spent several months in Sarasota last winter visiting Mrs. Charlotte Donnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zaic, owners of Wana Kum Bak, and son, Pat, vacationed in Melbourne, Fla. during the winter with friends.

New Apartment-Home

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lock attended a gift show in Chicago last February. Mrs. Lock operates The Beach Shop during summer months at the resort. The Locks are planning to move soon to their recently completed garage-apartment on the corner of Myers and Lake road. They will build a new home there when building conditions permit.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jolly of Youngstown Manor have spent a busy winter with trips to Windsor and London, Canada, Detroit, Rochester, Niagara Falls, and Morgantown, W. Va. And the reason for all this traveling? Well, last fall, if you will remember, Jolly was elected supreme secretary of the Ancient Mystic Order of Samaritans, and that takes quite a bit of traveling!

Mother Recuperating

Ellen Rae Ellis, of the L-Rae guest house, took off for Florida last fall, but was called back to her home in Niles because of the illness of her mother, Mrs. Eleanor Ellis. Her mother is recuperating and is expected to visit Ellen soon. Her nephew, Charles Williams, will be graduated from the Ursuline school in Youngstown this year and arrived here for the summer early in June.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Parks spent two months in Hollywood, Calif. before leaving for Miami Beach, Fla. for the winter. Their daughter, Theda, will leave soon to join her husband, Lt. Ross A. Killan, in Germany where he is serving with the regular Army. The Parks will make a trip to Europe in the fall.

College Student

Miss Mary Jane Oakley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. Oakley, of Geneva-on-the-Lake, arrived home June 5 from Simmons college where she completed her freshman year. She will re-enter there in the fall. Jack Oakley, her brother, will work at the Madsen dough-nut shop this season.

Baldwin in his early history of the resort referred to a paper written by the late G. E. Putnam (report of this will appear in the next issue of The Beachcomber) and named many of the first families who settled at the lake.

Earlier in the evening, Jolly presented a resume of his 800-mile trip to resorts along Lake Erie sponsored by the Lake Erie International Vacationland conference.

In visiting the various resorts, Jolly reported that Geneva-on-the-Lake stands ahead of most of them in the amount of business done. He pointed out that Canadians have a way of trimming up their country and beautifying their resorts that makes them appeal to vacationists. He said that that was one of the things we have overlooked in communities along the lake.

He also indicated that Canadians
